OSEEN is published twice a month during the academic year. It is mailed free of charge to all those on our mailing list. If you are not on our list and wish to receive OSEEN regularly, please let us know.

OSEEN welcomes news items and notices of Slavic interest from around the State. Items of less than one page in length are carried without charge. A one- or two-page announcement or advertisement can be included for a charge of $10.00 per page. Please send a good xerox copy on 8 1/2" by 11" paper, and make checks payable to The Ohio State University. Deadlines for the receipt of material are the Mondays preceding the first and third Thursdays of each month. The deadline for the next issue is March 3.

For further information please call one of the following numbers (area code 614): Editor: 464-2271 or 422-2336. Slavic Department Secretary: 422-6733. Slavic Center: 422-8770.

FELLOWSHIP AND GRANT OPPORTUNITIES

572. The National Endowment for the Humanities (Address: Washington, DC, 20506) reports the following concerning its revised fellowship program:

"June 2, 1975 will be the only deadline for applications for 1976-77 Fellowships for Independent Study and Research."

"The program of Fellowships in Residence for College Faculty will continue to have a Fall deadline: October 14, 1975, for 1976-77 fellowships. The purposes of this program, however, are different from those of the other, and so are its criteria of eligibility. It is for teachers at two-year and four-year undergraduate colleges whose primary aim is to increase their understanding of the subjects they teach in order to improve their teaching. Fellowships for Independent Study and Research, by contrast, are for university and college faculty members and others who have strong interests in research.

"These two fellowship programs have absorbed our former programs of Senior Fellowships, Fellowships for Younger Humanists, Fellowships in Selected Fields, and Fellowships for Junior College Teachers.

"The deadline for 1976 Summer Stipends will be October 14, 1975."

573.

YALE UNIVERSITY

RUSSIAN AND EAST EUROPEAN STUDIES PROGRAM

invites applications for a post-doctoral fellowship for the academic year 1975-76

Object: To provide a recent Ph.D. with an opportunity for research, interaction with more advanced scholars in the field, and some practical experience in an area program.

Eligibility: A recently completed Ph.D. (1968 or later) in the humanities or social sciences (as defined in the Bulletin of Yale University) in the Russian and/or East European area.

An application should include: (1) a curriculum vitae, together with a brief statement of short and long-range objectives, (2) a description of a research project, (3) two letters of recommendation. Applications should be addressed to the Director of Graduate Studies, Russian and East European Studies, Yale University, 27 Hillhouse Avenue, New Haven, Connecticut 06520.

Deadline: May 1, 1975.

Terms: The appointment will be for one academic year (mid-September to mid-May) and carry a stipend of $10,000. The successful applicant will receive library privileges, and limited secretarial help.

In addition to his (her) own research, the post-doctoral fellow will be invited to contribute to an interdisciplinary seminar offered by the Russian and East European Program.

SUMMER STUDY AND RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES

574. For the fifth consecutive year, Harvard University will offer an academic and extracurricular program of Ukrainian Studies during its Summer School session. Five courses in Ukrainian history, language and literature are open to all students who have graduated from an accredited secondary school and may be taken on a credit, non-credit or audit basis. Most other colleges and universities permit their degree candidates to transfer credits earned at the Harvard Summer School; the summer program is, therefore, a unique opportunity for university students interested in Ukrainian Studies to enroll in the courses which Harvard offers in this field while fulfilling their own degree programs.

Courses offered during Harvard Summer School 1975 (June 30-August 22) are:

Modern Ukrainian History	Prof. Jaroslaw Pelenski
Conference Course: The Ukrainian SSR	Prof. Jaroslaw Pelenski
Beginning Ukrainian	Ms. Vera Pereshluha
Advanced Ukrainian	Mr. George Grabowicz
Ukrainian Literature of the 19th and 20th Centuries	Mr. George Grabowicz

A limited number of Harvard scholarships are available to summer students. Please address requests for scholarship information, Summer School catalogs and application forms to: HARVARD SUMMER SCHOOL 1975, 735 Holyoke Center, 1350 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, MA, 02138.

575. Cleveland State University will offer a summer program in "Alternative Economic Systems for High School Teachers." Fees are paid by the Cleveland Center for Economic Education. For information, write: Ron Diagle, John Carroll University, Cleveland, OH, 44118.

576. The Russian and East European Center of the University of Illinois has announced its Third Illinois Summer Research Laboratory on Russia and Eastern Europe. The program is designed to help scholars who wish to use the Slavic library resources of the University. Each participant is allowed the following benefits: 1) visiting library privileges, 2) free lodging in an air-conditioned dormitory (or a reimbursement of up to $3 per night to help with the cost of other housing), 3) a small allowance of up to $10 per week as reimbursement for photocopying or computer time. For the summer of 1975, Research Associateships will be available for periods of from one week to a maximum of eight weeks, any time between June 9 and August 2. There is no formal schedule of activities. Graduate students as well as faculty members and librarians are eligible. For further information write to: Professor Benjamin Uroff, Research Director, Russian and East European Center, University of Illinois, 1208 West California Avenue, Urbana, IL, 61801. Applications are requested by April 1.

580. From Frank Petronaitis, Lyons Township High School, LaGrange, IL, the CSEES has received these ideas for recruiting students and for having an active Russian club:

"Our school in the last two years has promoted 'advertising campaigns' to encourage students to reevaluate their attitude towards the study of a second language. We have been busy 1) displaying pertinent material on the bulletin boards in the language wing and classrooms, 2) distributing materials to students re: careers in languages, and 3) promoting a Lingo-Fest and an International Dinner.

"We have a very active Russian Club....some of the activities vary each year:

September	-	Slide-lecture by a recent visitor to the USSR
October	-	An American businessman in Russia talks to the students
November	-	Attend Beriozka Dancers at Opera House
December	-	Russian Potluck
January	-	Visit to Russian Church
February	-	Participate in International Dinner
March	-	Some local University Russian professors visit our classes
April	-	Russian films
May	-	Russian banquet and awards

"Our local chapter of AATSEEL is also endeavoring to analyze the current situation and to devise means to encourage high school teachers of Russian to exchange ideas. We sponsor 1) an annual Russian Revival Rally, and 2) the Illinois State Russian High School Contest."

Mr. Petronaitis also reports that, "...my administration, counselors and feeder schools have been emphasizing the need for the study of Russian now just as important as in the past. My III-IV students have done much as Cadet Teachers in the elementary schools."

POLISH ESSAY CONTEST

581. The Polish Arts Club's Twenty-Ninth Annual Literary Competition is open to any high school or college student of Polish origin interested in submitting literary essays relating to Polish and Polish-American matters. The purpose of the competition is twofold: to encourage students of Polish origin who have interests in literary careers and to add to the existing annals of the accomplishments of Polish-Americans. For further information write to Bi-Centennial Newsletter, Alliance College, Cambridge Springs, PA, 16403.
